Solution Overview:

Video Surveillance System

- Provides Additional Eyes Across Your Facility for Enhanced Safety and Security

Challenges

While senior living community staff members are focused on providing person-centered care and services that support the safety, independence and well-being of their residents, they are not always able to monitor the activities that occur in parking areas, on the exterior grounds, or at key locations within the facility.

Staff members require actionable information to perform their jobs efficiently and to quickly and accurately respond to incidents. With advanced knowledge of a dangerous situation, facilities are better equipped to ensure the safety of residents and initiate an effective response.

The ability to “see” what is happening during an incident (for example, the direction of travel away from the building of a wandering or eloping resident) can make all the difference in a successful recovery and outcome.

While the safety and security of residents is always the first priority, limited or no protection of the buildings, grounds, or property of a community against criminal activity or a major loss event could be financially devastating and threaten the continued operability of the community.

Solution

STANLEY Healthcare’s video surveillance systems are designed to capture and record images from cameras strategically placed on the exterior, or selected interior areas of a community, for routine surveillance or event-related activity. These systems can be configured to manage a few cameras or hundreds of cameras, depending on the size and needs of the facility. This scalability provides an affordable solution, while delivering advanced features and capabilities. And after implementation, we continue to deliver with expert service that’s available when you need it.

The solution combines a network video recorder (NVR), video recording and management software, and a large variety of IP network cameras that provide secure, reliable 24-hour surveillance of your community. Typical uses of cameras in senior living communities include:

Benefits

- Reduces exposure to criminal activity in parking areas and around facility exterior
- Increases resident safety by capturing exit and direction of travel, to expedite response and recovery
- Provides documentary evidence surrounding exterior slip/fall incidents
- Increases staff efficiency with event-driven video displays
- Preserves the history of events through pre- and post-event recording of video camera images
• Provides views of the facility exterior and parking areas to monitor and record potential unauthorized activity
• Records potential resident wandering, elopement or loitering events with images of protected doors
• Records images near entry and exit points that are related to the unauthorized removal of property
• Records images that are associated with an alarm event for post incident investigation
• Obtains both live and recorded camera images to be viewed from on-site workstations, or remotely via password-protected Internet access
• Integrates video systems with Emergency Call and Wander Management solutions to gather live video of event activity to display and route to staff members
